Come and be part of the awesome display of craftsmanship from the Known World!

Pennsic 52 brings the annual display of the talents & knowledge of the Known World's Artisans and Craftspeople. The variety and scope of work are always a wondrous spectacle of artistic talents and scientific skills.

The display is not a competition. Bring your completed items, works-in-progress, research, and discussion material so that you may share, inspire, and enrich our Society. See what others in your field are working on, discover a new passion, make new contacts, and most importantly, have fun!

I look forward to seeing you and your works.
Baroness Adele Lochlane

5 Display Rules

The display space is divided by Kingdom, allowing the Royalty, Peers, and Populace to see the efforts of their Craftspeople more easily.

- Only tables & benches will be provided. Please bring your own chair if you do not want to spend the day sharing a bench.
- There is a limit of 6 ft wide space per person (not per item). If you wish to bring alternative display items (stand, additional table, etc,) please let me know.
- If you have any special requirements of space, please describe it on your registration form, or contact the A&S Display Coordinator.
- You are not required to be present with your items. If you can only attend for part of the day, please still bring your items to share. However, please have someone to watch your items when you cannot be there. We cannot watch all the items, and do not take responsibility for them.

6 A & S Consultation Tables

The A&S Consultation Service is a chance for artisans to voluntarily request feedback to help them improve in their art. The focus of this feedback can be on craftsmanship, research, historical understanding, and/or presentation. Even if you never plan to enter A&S competitions you can use this table as an opportunity for feedback. We strive to provide each artisan with the type of advice and feedback that they require for their individual journey in their chosen art, craft, or science.

Artisans: You have the option of requesting a consultation at the time that you register for the display. Requesting a consultation in advance gives us a better opportunity to find a consultant with relevant experience. You may also request a consultation on the day of the A&S Display, after you have gone through the registration table. Consultations are entirely optional.

- We will visit you at your table to view your display and talk to you. We can also work with you on scheduling a specific time.
- We will aim to provide the sort of feedback that you need. Let us know if there is a specific type of advice you would like (e.g., developing your skills, expanding your research, showing your work to its best advantage, preparing to enter competition, etc.)
- You will not receive a score and there is nothing to win.
- You will have a chance to talk to experienced judges and walk through their thought process as they examine your entry.
- We will attempt to accommodate as many entries as possible.

Consultants: We also need volunteer consultants. Want to help? Let us know! You are the ones who are going to help make the A & S Consultation Service successful.

- We'd welcome you for the full four hours or any portion you are able to attend. Let us know what you can do and we'll work with you.
- Never consulted before and want to learn? Let us know. You can be a shadow consultant. We'd welcome the company.
- We also hope that this will make the judging experience at A&S competitions more constructive and more enjoyable.
- If you are interested in helping, please sign up in advance: volunteer for A&S Consultation If you have any questions, please contact us.
